

A DBIA NATIONAL AWARD WINNER AND THE COLLABORATIVE PROCESS; A CASE STUDY

The Arizona State University's Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication is an example of a co-located project team using an Integrated Project Delivery model to collaboratively design and build a 223,000 square-foot, award winning facility. Members of the project team will discuss the collaborative elements of the design build process and how they made this a successful and rewarding project.
