

REFLECTIONS, LESSONS LEARNED AND OUTLOOK FOR PUBLIC PRIVATE PARTNERSHIPS (P3) IN PUBLIC HIGHER EDUCATION

With funding becoming less available to public higher education institutions, and with those institutions looking to the private sector to provide solutions, Public Private Partnerships (P3's) are becoming more prevalent. You'll hear insights that include recent experience and developments concerning the CSU System projects, community colleges, the University of California, and more. Perspectives from the owner, an industry expert consultant, legal counsel to many P3 clients, and a design-builder will help you decide for yourself where you fit into this new delivery. Don't miss this opportunity to hear lessons learned and what the future may hold. Expect to participate in Q&A, such that we can share insights and be more productive in our pursuits going forward.
