SPEAKER

Keith Wilschetz, Director of Planning & Noise Mitigation
San Diego County Regional Airport Authority

Keith Wilschetz has been planning airports for 30 years. He has been the San Diego Airport Authority's Planning Director for 9 years. In that time, he has directed such planning efforts as the Site Selection study, which identified a site for a new commercial airport in San Diego; Destination Lindbergh, which formulated the long-term plan for the current airport site; and the Airport Development Plan, which is the current master planning effort for Lindbergh Field. He is also responsible for noise mitigation and sound insulation of homes around the Airport; engineering and management of many construction projects on the north side of the airport; and land use compatibility for all 16 airports in San Diego County, including four military bases. Prior to joining the Authority, Mr. Wilschetz was V.P. of Planning at Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport. Before DFW, he was a consultant with Landrum & Brown, Inc., a worldwide airport planning consulting firm. He is an Aerospace Engineer from the Missouri University of Science and Technology and holds a Master's degree in Executive Leadership from the University of San Diego. He is also a licensed private pilot.
